Self-Esteem (Current Issues in Social Psychology)

Self-Esteem (Current Issues in Social Psychology)

In this edited collection a distinguished set of contributors present a broad overview of psychological research on self-esteem. Each chapter is written by leading experts in the field, and surveys current research on a particular issue concerning self-esteem. Together, the chapters provide a comprehensive overview of one of the most popular topics in psychology.

Each chapter presents an in-depth review of particular issues concerning self-esteem, such as the connection that self-esteem has with the self-concept and psychological adjustment. A number of further topics are covered in the book, including:

- How individuals pursue self-esteem
- The developmental changes in feelings of self-worth over the life span.
- The existence of multiple forms of high self-esteem
- The role that self-esteem plays as an interpersonal signal
- The protective properties associated with the possession of high self-esteem

This collection of state-of-the-art reviews of key areas of the psychological literature on self-esteem will be of great interest to researchers, and academics, and also to graduate and advanced undergraduate students of social psychology.
